Disruptpolitics.us: Declaring Independence From The Special Interest State

Synopsis

It's Past Time to Disrupt Our Politics. More and more aspects of our lives and work are being disrupted by technological change and the new mindset of the Information Age. The great outlier is our politics and government. We, the People are taking every opportunity before us to disrupt politics. We vote out the Republicans and Democrats--and back around again. We're supporting insurgencies within the legacy parties. Donald Trump and Bernie Sanders may differ in many ways, but they're as one in representing our rising demands for reform. In this important book, James Strock diagnoses the nature of our current challenges. Then he proposes a series of actions that can be led by a strong, independent president--without vainly awaiting constitutional amendments that may never materialize. In a spectacular turn of fate, the premises of our constitutional government--decentralization, individual freedom, accountable central institutions with divided powers--are a perfect fit for our historic moment. Our politics awaits the 21st century leadership approaches that are disrupting the private and not-for-profit sectors. disruptpolitics.us is a manual for citizen action, and a blueprint for updating the architecture of our politics and government.

At a time where most of our citizens have rightly washed their hands of our self-serving, self-aggrandizing political class and the corrupt Special Interest state they serve, along comes a brilliantly-crafted 21st Century Declaration of Independence to revitalize the principles of our Constitution and bring to œwe, the people • the accountable, transparent, honest and effective government we truly deserve. James Strock's disruptpolitics.us is such a manifesto for our times! disruptpolitics.us: Declaring Independence from the Special Interest State James Strock's disruptpolitics.us dispassionately, but highly effectively dissects the "Special Interest State" one sordid, but true detail at a time; allowing the reader to visualize in his/her mind the crumbling, decaying edifice constructed over many decades by a two-party oligopoly and its corrupt masters, The Special Interest State -- which are only concerned with clinging to power in any "legal" way possible. As Mr. Strock so eloquently articulates, the victims in this charade-form of democracy are the everyday American citizenry, the large majority of whom go about their non-political lives working hard, raising families and trying to ignore the Hunger Games-like alternative reality known as our Two Party system. This Two Party system is on life-support, brought to the edge of death by its own means, having gradually sold itself vein-by-vein to the vampires of the Special Interest State.
