About Shell Education Rachelle Cracchiolo started the company with a friend and fellow teacher. Both were eager to share their ideas and passion for education with other classroom leaders. What began as a hobby, selling lesson plans to local stores, became a part-time job after a full day of teaching, and eventually blossomed into Teacher Created Materials. The story continued in 2004 with the launch of Shell Education and the introduction of professional resources and classroom application books designed to support Teacher Created Materials curriculum resources. Today, Teacher Created Materials and Shell Education are two of the most recognized names in educational publishing around the world.

Customer Reviews

While I found this to be useful, I wouldn't say it is excellent. I have my students complete it each day as a warm-up, but we never do Day 5, which is a writing prompt, because I find the prompts to be too simplistic and not focused on evidence based writing called for by the Common Core State Standards. All of the questions for Days 1-4 are multiple choice, which also has some limitations. I do like the variety of genres and how each day for the week is the same topic. I also think most of the topics are engaging for students of this age.

This book will carry your child through the entire school year. I used it with my homeschooler. My child scored great on the standardized test. This book is great. It takes the guess-work out of planning each day.

I love this book. I homeschool my son and it is perfect for daily lessons. I would recommend it to anyone that is homeschooling

Great for review! I use these for homework and during tutoring. Hits a lot of skills

Good exercise for practice
